CHANGING YOUR TOMORROW

---

The image shows a vibrant garden scene. In the foreground, a wooden arbor is covered in climbing roses, with many flowers in shades of pink, orange, and yellow. A small, dark wooden door is visible on the arbor. To the left, a small blue sign with a red border and a yellow logo is mounted on a branch. The background is filled with dense green foliage and more rose bushes. The overall atmosphere is one of a well-maintained, blooming garden.

The Coming of Spring

Read and understand

Oh, the sunshine told the bluebird,
And the bluebird told the brook,
That the dandelions were peeping
From the woodland's sheltered nook.

Then, the brook was blithe and happy,
And it babbled all the way,
As it ran to tell the river
Of the coming of glorious May.

Soon, the river told the meadow,
And the meadow told the bee,
That the tender buds were swelling
On the old chestnut tree.

And the bee shook off its sleep,
And spread each yellow wing,
As it flew to tell the flowers
Of the coming of Spring.

A. Let us find the answers from the poem.

1) What did the sunshine tell the bluebird?

Ans) The sunshine told the bluebird that the dandelions were peeping from the woodland's sheltered nook i:e Spring has finally arrived.

2) Why did the brook babble all the way?

Ans) The brook babbled all the way as that is the noise a brook makes. It was also happy that it was going to tell the river that the glorious May had come.

B. Let us read between the lines.

1) Why did the bee shake off its sleep?

Ans) The bee shook off its sleep because insects go to sleep in winter and wake up with the arrival of Spring.

2) What does the word 'sheltered' in the fourth line of the poem mean?

Ans) 'Sheltered' means that it was not in the sun. It was shaded by the trees of the forest.
